▶ CONTROL STICK FUNCTION

The Nintendo® 64 Controller contains a Control Stick which uses an analog system to read the angles and direction of its movement. This allows subtle control that is not possible using the conventional + Control Pad.

When turning the Control Deck power ON, do not move the Control Stick from its neutral position on the controller.

If the Control Stick is held at an angled position (as shown in the picture on the left) when the power is turned ON, this position will be set as neutral. This will cause games using the Control Stick to operate incorrectly.

To reset the neutral position once the game has started, let go of the Control Stick so it can return to its center position (as shown in the picture on the left) then press START while holding the L and R buttons.

The Control Stick is a precision instrument, make sure not to spill liquids or place any foreign objects into it.

▶ STARTING THE GAME

1. Turn OFF the power switch on your Nintendo 64 Control Deck.
WARNING: Never try to insert or remove a Game Pak when the power is ON.
2. Make sure a Controller is plugged into Controller Socket 1 on the Control Deck.
▶ If you're playing against a friend, plug the other Controller into Controller Socket 2.
3. Insert the Game Pak into the slot on the Control Deck. Press firmly to lock it in place.
4. Turn ON the power switch. The NHL®, NHLPA™, and EA SPORTS logos appear, followed by the NHL 99 introduction and title screen. If you don't see them, begin again at step 1.
5. At the NHL 99 title screen, press A to begin a game (▶ Quickstart on p. 6.) or START to advance to the Game Setup menu (▶ p. 7).

Think you got a game? Now, you've got a voice. Send your NHL 99 ideas, comments, and suggestions to EA SPORTS at nhl99n64@ea.com.

NHL 99 tournaments are structured like most formally sanctioned ice hockey tournaments. Tournaments begin with a round robin, continue through single-elimination rounds, and end following the medal games. Below is a general tournament flow.

ROUND ROBIN

The computer automatically seeds and places each team in a tournament pool. Each team must play every other team in its group once to complete a round.

QUARTERFINAL ROUND

The quarterfinal is a single-elimination round, so the four remaining teams appear in the semifinal. The semifinal is a single-seeding round, determining the match-ups for the medal games.

BRONZE MEDAL GAME

The two semifinal losers meet in the bronze medal game. The winner receives the bronze medal, while the loser gets a well-deserved pat on the back.

COACHING STRATEGIES

To take full advantage of NHL 99's coaching strategies, you must first develop an understanding of real hockey strategy. In this section, Stanley Cup winning coach Marc Crawford gives you a crash course in hockey smarts.

Offensive Strategies

POSITIONAL: "In a Positional offense, players patrol zones like the old slot hockey games we used to play. This strategy is extremely conservative, but there's still a place for it in today's game. The benefit of a Positional offense is that your teammates are there to cover for you if you take your player out of position."

TRIANGLE: "The goal here is to overload one side of the ice and create 3-on-2 or 2-on-1 opportunities. When you achieve an overload in the Attack Zone, give-and-gos and one-timers are automatic. Smart players use the ice really well in this type of situation, so run the Triangle with your most Offensively Aware skaters."

FUNNEL: "A scoring chance is any shot taken from the slot up to about the top of the faceoff circles. The Funnel strategy focuses on moving as many players into this area as you can safely afford. By continuously charging the net, you'll create more scoring chances, and you'll have players in position for the rebounds."

COMBINATION: "Combination automatically selects the best strategy for the current game situation. In other words, your team adjusts to whatever the defense throws at you. For example: If your opponent is in a strict Zone, you can set up a successful Triangle in the high corner because their wings aren't there for support."

Defensive Strategies

ZONE: "The Zone defense is a sound strategy. It's similar to the Positional offensive strategy, but you have a bit more freedom to incorporate new ideas. Use this strategy with a line of Defensively Aware players, and focus on cutting off the pass. If you go for the man and miss, you'll quickly find yourself out of position."

MAN-TO-MAN: "You must have unbelievably skilled players on the ice to utilize the Man-to-Man strategy effectively. All it takes is one opponent beating your player and they've got a 2-on-1 at the least. Possibly a breakaway. Use this strategy when you find your 1st line on the ice challenging your opponent's 3rd line."

COMBINATION: "On defense, Combination is a hybrid of Zone and Man-to-Man strategies. In general, your skater playing the puck is playing a Man-to-Man strategy. Your other players are patrolling their Zones. The beauty of the Combination is that if your skater gets beat, his teammate assigned to that Zone can help out."

BOX + 1: "In this strategy, your wings and defenders play a standard Box strategy, while the center assumes a 'rover' position. The Box + 1 works best when the center has a strong Defensive Awareness rating because he must adjust quickly and intelligently to the attack. The Box rotates so that a man is always on the puck."

RULES OF THE GAME

This section defines hockey rules, penalties, and terms for NHL 99 rookies.

Offside

A play is offside when an attacking player precedes the puck across the blue line, into the Attack zone. If you're in danger of committing an offside violation, an indicator appears on the screen until your teammates clear out of the zone.

When the ref calls an offside violation, play stops and a faceoff occurs on the Neutral zone faceoff dot nearest the incident.

Two Line Passing

A two-line pass is whistled when the puck crosses two lines between the origination and completion of a pass. Play stops, and the ref drops the puck at the point of origin of the pass.

Icing

Icing occurs when a player sends the puck from his half of the ice across his opponent's goal line and a defender other than the goalie is first to touch the puck. Play stops and a faceoff is held in the offending team's zone.

Icing is not called if the shot originated from a faceoff, if the puck passes through any part of the crease, or if the offending team is short-handed.

Penalties

When a player is in violation of one of the infractions below, the official calls a penalty.

BOARDING: A charging violation that sends your opponent crashing into the boards.

CHARGING: Applying a body check after taking more than two deliberate strides toward your opponent.

CROSS CHECKING: Hitting your opponent with both hands on your stick and no part of the stick on the ice.

ELBOWING: Delivering a check with your arms or elbows rather than your body.

FIGHTING: The moment you square off against an opponent and drop your gloves. A penalty may be declared, even if no blows are struck.

HIGH STICKING: Carrying your stick above normal waist level when skating toward an opponent. Striking your opponent while carrying the stick above shoulder level.

HOLDING: Using your hands to grab either your opponent or his stick.

HOOKING: Using the blade of your stick to restrain an opponent.

INTERFERENCE: Any contact with your opponent's goalie while he is in possession of the puck and within the crease.

ROUGHING: A particularly ruthless Charging infraction, usually resulting in the injury of your opponent.

SLASHING: Using your stick to hit, or attempt to hit, an opposing player.

SPEARING: Poking at an opposing player with the point of your stick's blade.

TRIPPING: Toppling your opponent by means of either your stick, knee, foot, arm, hand, or elbow.

TIME IN THE SIN BIN

If the guilty player's team has the puck, play stops immediately, and the official sends the player to the penalty box.

If the other team has the puck, play continues until possession changes hands, in which case the official halts play, or until the team scores, in which case the penalty is annulled.

While the penalized player sits in the penalty box his team is not allowed to replace him on the ice; instead, his team skates with one less player. The result is a penalty killing situation for the short-handed team and a power play for their opponent.

A team may not play with fewer than three skaters on the ice (not including the goalie). Therefore, if a team has two players in the penalty box and a third player commits a penalty, the third player is directed to the box and is also replaced on the ice with a player from the bench. But the player's penalty time does not begin to tick off until one of his teammates is released.

When a player's penalty time expires, he skates out of the box and is immediately back in the game. However, if a team skating on a power play scores against the short-handed team, one player from the short-handed team is awarded early release from the penalty box and lines up for the next faceoff.

PENALTY SHOTS

A breakaway is recognized when the puckhandler skates past the defense into the Attack zone creating a one-on-one situation with the opposing goalie.

Any last ditch effort to "take down" the puckhandler from behind results in a penalty shot for the offense.

The penalty shot begins with the offensive player in the center ice faceoff circle. The player takes control of the puck and closes in on the goalie for a one-on-one shot. Once the puck is in motion, he must keep it in motion until he fires a shot. There are no rebound chances off a missed shot.

The goalie must remain positioned in his crease until the player crosses the blue line. At this time, the goalie may advance out of the crease to cut off the player's angle or attempt to stop the puck in any legal manner.

GLOSSARY OF HOCKEY TERMS

Attack Zone: The area of ice between your opponent's blue line and goal line. Also called the Offensive Zone.

Backchecking: Skating back up ice toward your goal line while covering an attacker.

Blue Lines: Two 12" blue lines drawn from sideline to sideline across the rink. The blue lines are positioned 60 feet in front of each goal, dividing the ice into three zones. The blue lines are used to determine offside violations.

Boards: The wooden barriers enclosing the ice surface of the rink. Boards are topped-off by a barrier of shatterproof glass to protect both players and spectators.

Body Check: To use your body to block or hit an opponent. Body checking is legal only when the player receiving the hit is controlling the puck or was the last player to touch it.

Checking: Impeding the progress of a player with the puck, either by blocking his progress with your body or with your stick.

Crease: The 6' x 4' area, marked off by red lines and painted blue, directly in front of each goal. Only the goalie is permitted in the crease; no player may score from the crease unless he is trapped in by a defensive player or the puck enters the crease first.

Defensemen: The two skaters on your back line. A defenseman's main responsibilities are foiling an attack by the opposition and containing their own team's attack at the blue line. Sometimes called Pointmen because of their position at the blue line on offense.

Defensive Zone: The area of ice between your blue line and your goal line. Sometimes referred to as "your zone."

Deke: The use of superb stickhandling and skating to fake or deceive an opponent into committing himself.

Faceoff: The dropping of the puck by the referee between two opposing players to begin play. Faceoffs start the game and follow all stoppages in play.

Forechecking: Checking your opponent in his defensive zone in an effort to regain the puck and continue your attack.

Forward: A forward is any or all of the three players skating on the forward line: Left Wing, Center, and Right Wing. A forward's main responsibilities are forechecking and scoring.

Goal Lines: Two red lines drawn from sideline to sideline across the rink. The goal lines identify the plane of the goal and are used in determining icing infractions.

Goaltender: The goaltender positions himself in front of his team's net and attempts to block the opposing team's shots-on-goal. Sometimes referred to as Goalie, Goalkeeper, 'keeper, or Net Minder.

Hat Trick: Three goals by a single player in one game.

Neutral Zone: The area of ice in the center of the rink between the two blue lines. The term "neutral ice" is also used to describe this area of ice.

Penalty-Killing: The defensive maneuvers and lines used while a team is shorthanded.

Pinching In: When Basic positions are set on offense, Pinching In is the act of skating the player with the puck out of position and toward the net. If a defenseman pinches in, a forward usually retreats to cover his point.

Power Play: An organized attack by the full strength team against the short-handed team.

Red Line: The 12" center line drawn from sideline to sideline, bisecting the rink into two equal segments.

Twine: The net. When the puck passes over the goal line far enough to hit the net, the term "dent the twine" is sometimes used. The net may also be referred to as "rope."

Winger: Players skating in the Left Wing and Right Wing positions are commonly referred to more generally as Wingers.
